

Instructions to authors

Editorial policy

Linguística. Revista de Estudos Linguísticos da Universidade do Porto accepts papers on any linguistic topic. Papers from either fundamental or applied research will equally be considered for publication, no matter the theoretical background of the submitted studies.

Submission and acceptance

Prospective authors are encouraged to submit manuscripts within the scope of Revista de Estudos Linguísticos da Universidade do Porto. Submitted papers must be previously unpublished – though revised versions or translations of previously published texts can be exceptionally admitted as candidates for publication – and must not be under consideration for publication elsewhere.

All submissions are transmitted to at least two anonymous referees.

For initial submission an email copy should be sent to the Editor, without any authors' identification, accompanied by a separate title page, giving each author's name, affiliation, address (to which proofs and editorial correspondence can be sent), phone, fax and e-mail address. For co-authored papers, first author's contacts will be used in further correspondence.

After a paper is accepted for publication, authors must present a final version as specified below and in full accordance with the instructions provided by this style sheet.

Word processors and other software: MS Word for Windows (DOC, DOCX or RTF file). For papers with specific symbols or figures (phonetic transcription, OT tableaux, syntax trees a.s.o.), a PDF version (in addition to a DOC or RTF version) is required. Moreover, clear indication of the used software must be given to the Editor. For phonetic transcription, please use the IPA-samd Uclphon1 SILDoulos font.

Final versions of accepted papers will observe the following specifications. The Editor reserves the right to return the manuscript to the authors for any corrections when these norms are not respected.

Notes and acknowledgements: Footnotes in the text should be identified by superscript numbers and listed consecutively at each page bottom. Acknowledgements should be made in a first note, marked with an asterisk (this note should be introduced immediately after the title's last word).

Section headings: All sections and subsections should have a heading. Section headings should be numbered as in the following:

1. Section title
- 1.1 Subsection title level 1
- 1.1.1 Subsection title level 2

Examples, tables, figures, etc.: Examples, tables and figures should be inserted in the text and numbered consecutively with Arabic numerals. Each table and figure should have a title, at its top (Times New Roman, 12 pt, single-spacing, left-aligned) according to the following examples.

Captions must occur at the figure or table bottom: Times New Roman, 11 pt, single-spacing.

In the full printed version and in the electronic copy, tables and figures must be included in their intended locations. On separate sheets and separate files (DOC/RTF and PDF), additional copies of tables and figures should be provided (1 figure or table per A4 page). These additional versions may fit camera-ready quality (clear black print, laser or high quality ink-jet printer). Their lettering should be large enough to be legible after reduction. Only black and white tables and figures can be accepted for final publication.

Italicisation: Do not underline examples or emphasised terms; these should be italicised. Bold type or small capitals can also be used.

Examples: All examples included in paragraphs should be given in italics (except when representing phrase/sentence structure).

Numbering of examples: examples which are not included in the text of a paragraph should be numbered, with the number placed in parentheses. Tabs (not spaces) should be used to align the examples. Sets of related items may be listed together, and numbered with lowercase letters, as in the example below:

- (1) a. a slice of bread, a glass of water
 - b. a pile of books, a row of houses
- (2) strawberry, raspberry, blueberry

Examples should be numbered consecutively throughout the whole text. List numbering may be used automatically. This allows adding and updating cross-references to examples. To enable it, choose Format > Bullets and Numbering > Numbered, or right-click and choose Bullets and Numbering > Numbered.

The preceding and the following text should be separated from the example(s) by one blank line.

References to numbered examples should take the following form: “as in (1b) and (2)”.

If the paper includes examples from a language that does not coincide with the one of the paper, glosses and translations must be given in the language of the paper; use SMALL CAPITALS to gloss a grammatical category or grammatical category morpheme in a linguistic example, like in the following:

- (1) Paolo li ha già letti.
 Paolo them (MASC.PL) has already read (MASC.PL)
 ‘Paolo has already read them.’
- (2) Kodomo ga 3-nin waratta.
 kids NOM 3-CL laughed
 ‘Three kids laughed.’

Quotations: Short quotations are included in the text, enclosed in quotation marks (Times New Roman, 12 pt). Longer quotations should begin a new line and be indented, in Times New Roman, 11 pt, single space, without any quotation marks. After each long quotation, its source must be indicated (right-aligned, Times New Roman, 11 pt, single-space), following the bibliographical references style (see below). Inside a quotation, a suppression of any original passage should be marked with [...].

Experimental data: Authors should supply sufficient information to enable replication of investigations. Statistical results must be clearly indicated, following the norms of the American Psychological Association. Give subjects' chronological ages in years, years:months or years:months.days (when appropriate).

References in the text: Reference in the text should be to author's name and date. When appropriate, indicate relevant chapter/section or, preferably, page numbers (see following examples).

According to Kuhn (1962: 44), ...

The links between emotion, language and behaviour are taken into consideration by several authors (e. g.: Cross, Blake, Turnbridge & Gill 2001: 228 ff.).

For co-authored papers, include '&' before the last author's surname (see example above). For papers with three or more co-authors, indicate all co-authors' names in the first mention; thereafter, indicate first author's name, 'et al.' (italicised) and date of reference:

Cross et al. 2001

All personal communications should be identified as 'p.c.' after the source name and given a date (if possible) (e. g.: Matthews p.c. 2004).

List of references

References should be listed alphabetically by author at the end of the article. Please type REFERENCES (Times New Roman, 12 pt, bold, small capitals, left-aligned) before the first reference. An empty line (12 pt) should be kept immediately above and underneath this heading. All references in Times New Roman 12 pt, single-spacing, indented, as in the following examples. For references with more than one author, use a comma; and '&' to separate the last co-authors' name; or et al. (for three or above three authors) in the reference list.

- Unpublished material and other sources:

Give as many details as you can. For unpublished manuscripts or mimeographs, consider them as books and indicate 'ms' instead of publisher's identification. For submitted or forthcoming papers, treat them as papers and supply information such as 'forthcoming', 'in press' or 'in preparation'.

Appendices

When absolutely essential, a final section of appendices can be included after the reference list. This section may contain experimental items, corpora or iconic materials relevant for the illustration of the authors' points of view or for the demonstration of experimental results. Appendices are ordered consecutively with capital letters (Appendix A, B, C...). The Editor reserves the right to judge any appendix irrelevant and therefore to suggest its suppression from the final publication. The inclusion of a section of appendices should be regarded as exceptional.

Proofreading

Once a paper is reformulated on the basis of the referees' suggestions and its final version is accepted, no substantial modifications will be allowed. Normally, all proofreading will be carried out by the Editorial Committee. Nonetheless, the Editor can ask the author to review a set of page proofs. No alterations other than of printer's errors will be admitted at this stage.
